

Eleonas Mind Transplant

08.04.–16.07.2017

Trip to Eleonas

The trip to Eleonas is meant to be an exploring trip. All of the plots and places which can be visited during the walk weren't accessible for public before. An old paper factory, an olive-grove-to-be, an abandoned football stadium – everything in ruins or somehow expired, but also exciting, fascinating, bearing potentials, hiding stories and being capable of sparking off a process. Let's make it visible! Let's do not ignore it!

Two towers

Two equal towers, one placed temporarily on Omonia square, another one permanently on Eleonas Base, will be erected for the documenta 14 to gain attention for the project. The tower can be divided into three parts. The first one is the ground floor which gives information about the Walk to Eleonas. The second one is the staircase with a sound installation which translocates the visitors to the other part of the city. The third one is the prospect area on the top floor. From there you can watch through a telescope and spy to the other tower and of course over the rest of the city.

Eleonas Mind Transplant

Eleonas Mind Transplant is a project designed by two young students with the aim of drawing attention to a long forgotten part of Athens: Eleonas. Nowadays a place of factories and logistics, abandoned construction sites and fallow fields, Eleonas is ignored by the city and its authorities – in spite of its transformation and developing potential. Eleonas Mind Transplant playfully deals with existing structures of the district and tries to dissolve prejudices. The project's aim is to encourage people to experience the unexpected, gain a new sight and change their perception of Eleonas.
